REVISED: 11.27.2019
ABOUT US

MISSION

To support and advance the arts and cultural fabric of Columbus.

VISION

A thriving Columbus where the arts matter to all of us.

OUR BOARD

The Arts Council Board of Trustees is composed of up to 29 members that includes five trustees appointed by elected representatives of the city of Columbus and three appointed by the Franklin County Board of Commissioners. The Board or a committee of the Board evaluates and approves all final funding decisions. The Board meets seven times a year in addition to numerous committee meetings throughout the year. Board meeting minutes are taken and available for public review. To view a current list of the Board of Trustees, please visit our website: https://www.gcac.org/about/board-of-trustees/.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST DISCLOSURE

In accordance with Greater Columbus Arts Council’s Code of Regulation “Duality of Interest” policy, the Arts Council maintains an annual written record of staff and board member’s duality of interest or any possible conflict of interest. A conflict of interest is defined as any artistic, financial or personal relationship that an individual has with an organization or individual that would prevent them from offering an unbiased evaluation, reaching an unbiased decision or any relationship that has a strong likelihood to lead an organization, individual or the public to perceive a conflict of interest.

Staff and Board members who have disclosed a duality of interest or conflict of interest will refrain from participating in grant evaluations, scoring and voting.

PUBLIC FUNDING

The Arts Council receives funding through annual contracts with the city of Columbus and the Franklin County Board of Commissions for the purposes of expanding cultural services and community enrichment, primarily through a competitive grant process. This funding is derived from four primary funding sources:

- City of Columbus Hotel/Motel Excise tax (no less than 75% must be allocated to arts & culture community), since 1978
- City of Columbus Creation, Innovation and Inclusion Fund, since July 2019
- City of Columbus Facility Stabilization Fund (20% of Nationwide Arena’s Arts & Culture Fee receipts), since July 2019
- Franklin County Board of Commissioners, since October 2019

In addition to the community funding programs, the Arts Council provides services to and advocates for arts organizations and artists, provides community-wide marketing for the arts and culture scene locally, regionally and nationally, and works closely with policy makers to foster an understanding of the economic and social impact of the arts on communities.

In addition, the Arts Council receives an annual Sustainability grant from the Ohio Arts Council, Ohio’s state arts agency.

OUR THANKS

Many thanks to Mayor Andrew J. Ginther, City Council President Shannon G. Hardin and Columbus City Council Members, Franklin County President Marilyn Brown and the Franklin County Board of Commissioners for their commitment to the Columbus arts and cultural community and the economic impact, education and quality of life that results from that investment.

Over the course of 15+ years Columbus conducted more than 30 studies to assess the impact of the arts on the economy, study peer city funding models, and identify Columbus’ benchmark and determine the needed level of public funds for sustainability. In 2018, we stopped researching and took action. Together with our arts community, we advocated for new funding streams and our city and community leaders responded boldly. Columbus City Council passed legislation in December 2018 to administer a 5 percent arts and cultural admission fee, and in the fall of 2019 the Franklin County Board of Commissioners, for the first time, allocated $2 million to the Arts Council for distribution through its grants programs. We look forward to the impact these new funds will have on families, children, creative sector workers, businesses and residents in Columbus in the coming months and years.
